INDEX SELECTION PROCESS

The Donoghue Forlines Momentum Fund (the Fund) is a rules-based strategy that tracks a proprietary Index identified in the Fund's prospectus. The Fund employs a disciplined investment selection process with tactical overlays that determines whether it will be in a bullish (invested) or defensive position. The tactical overlays are made up of two triggers. The first trigger tracks exponential moving averages of the stocks in the Fund to identify potentially negative intermediate-term trends. The second is a longer term exponential moving average crossover that more broadly can be indicative of the health of the economy and monitors longer term evolving problems that could lead to bear markets or recessions. Based on the status of each tactical indicator, the Fund could be 100% in equities, 50% in equities-50% defensive or 100% defensive. When in a defensive position, the Fund will invest in short-term U.S. Treasury ETFs or cash equivalents.

When bullish, the Fund allocates equally in up to 50 stocks, diversified amongst a market neutral weight of sectors. The stocks are selected based on having the highest trailing 12 month risk-adjusted momentum in their sector as well as meeting other quality factors. If stocks fail to meet the momentum and quality requirements in any sector, only the stocks that meet all the requirements will be included, and the remaining allocation is equally divided between the full final list of selected securities. The sectors used are Business Services, Consumer Cyclical, Consumer Non-Cyclical, Consumer Services, Energy, Finance, Healthcare, Industrials, Non-Energy Materials, Real Estate, Technology, Telecommunications, and Utilities.

Additionally, when bullish, the Fund rebalances and reconstitutes quarterly to bring the holdings back to an equal weighting.

As with all mutual funds, there is the risk that you could lose money through your investment in the Fund. The net asset value of the Fund will fluctuate based on changes in the value of the equity securities in which it invests. Hedging strategies may not perform as anticipated by the adviser and the Fund could suffer losses by hedging with underlying money market funds if stock prices do not decline. If money market funds are utilized, such Underlying Funds are subject to investment advisory and other expenses, which will be indirectly paid by the Fund. As a result, your cost of investing in the Fund will be higher than the cost of investing directly in Underlying Funds and may be higher than other mutual funds that do not invest in Underlying Funds. Investors cannot directly invest in an index and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charges.

The Sharpe ratio is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of volatility or total risk.

Investors cannot directly invest in an index and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charges.

Donoghue Forlines Momentum Fund tracks a proprietary index identified in the Fund's prospectus. One cannot invest directly in an index. The index is a rules-based index, which reflects the theoretical performance an investor would have obtained had it invested in the manner shown and does not represent returns actually obtained and does not represent returns an investor actually attained, as investors cannot invest directly in an index. No representation is being made that any client will or is likely to achieve results similar to those presented herein. The index performance includes the reinvestments of all dividends and distributions. Past performance is no guarantee of future results or returns.

The inclusion of the S&P 500 Index is for comparison purposes only. The S&P 500 Index is a market capitalization weighted index of 500 widely held stocks often used as a proxy for the stock market. Standard and Poor's chooses the member companies based upon market size, liquidity, and industry group representation. Included are stocks of industrial, financial, utilities, and transportation companies. The historical performance results of the S&P 500 Index are unmanaged; do not reflect the deduction of transaction and custodial charges, or the deduction of a management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing indicated historical performance results and cannot be invested in directly. Economic factors, market conditions and investment strategies will affect the performance of any portfolio, and therefore are not assurances that it will match or outperform any particular benchmark.
